FROLICS ON THE BEACH

Young People of Wilmington, North Carolina, Dance Mid-Week Germans-Mr. Pembroke Jones Visits His Summer Home.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Mary Clara Woodward and Mr. John Livingston Hazelhurst, were happily married at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning a the residence of the bride's parents, No. 210 North Second Street. The wedding was a quiet home affair, but very pretty The ceremony was performed by Rev exceedingly handsome. Particularly attractive were the Confederate flags ar tistically draped about the parlors and the hall. This was done as a compliment to the bride's father, Colonel W. J. Woodward, who is a member of General John Cape Fear Camp of Veterans.

The bride is one of Wilmington's mos popular young women. The groom is a native of Savannah, and moved to Wilmington when the Coast Line and Plant system were consolidated. He occupies a Nearly two hundred young people enjoyed a delightful frolic Tuesday night at pretty Hanover Seaside Club house' on Carolina Beach. Music, dancing and recreshments were the main features of entertainment and everybody had a most pleasant outing. The frolic was arranged by the energetic House Committee. Wednesday night many of the young society people went down to Carolina Beach to lattend a german given under the big payillon. These mild-week germans on the seashore have proven very popular.

THE WORLD OF RACING

Saratoga Meet Promises Best In its History.

CRACK WESTERN COLTS

McChesney, the Picket, Winner of the American Derby, and Savable Are to Be There-Thousands Attend Brighton Beach.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, July 18.—If anybody doubts that New York is a racing city, a trip or two to the Brighton Beach track these days will dissolve the doubt Let the weather be sweltering or cooland the current meet at Brighton has experienced both kinds-it makes no dif erence with the crowds. A crowd of 10,000 is ordinary, and the returns freber. The racing crowd consists of all sorts and conditions of men-and women. It is a prosperous crowd, too-that is, before the racing-and the layers of odds sorts and conditions of men-and women. It is a prosperous crowd, too-that is, before the racing—and the layers of odds are kept busy.

There has been nothing really big at the Beach this week in the way of racing, but the average of the sport has been high-plenty of horses of the beat class. The races have all filled well, and there have been as pretty displays of horsemanship as one should want to see.

Among the visitors at Brighton this week was William A. Hewett, a well known Canadian sportsman, who generally manages to come to the city during the racing season. He declares that this season is a record breaker, so far as his recoilection goes.

When the Brighton Beach meet closes Saratoga will be the Mecca toward which lovers of race horses East and West will turn. The Saratoga meet promises to be the very best in the history of that fancus track. The value of the stake events will be great enough to attract the very best horses in training. It is gratifying to know that the West will be unusually well represented at the Spathis season, and it is not at all unlikely that it will be possible after the finish of this meet to say definitely which is the best horse on the American turf for 1902. Among the Westerners to participate in the racing are McChesney. The Picket, winner of the American Derby, and Savable. If there are any better horses in the West than this grand trio, they have not yet shown up. When they meet Africander, Irish Lad and Waterboy there will be racing which ought to make turf history.

John A. Drake has not lost faith in Savable, despite his failure in the American Derby and the Lawrence Realization. He believes in even terms, and in the condition Savable will be when the Saratoga meet opens next month, Savable will be in the open secret Savable will be in it.

t is an open secret Savable will be in . . .

Among the prominent Western stables which have either shipped horses to Suratoge or will certainly do so are John A. Drake, Middleton and Jungbluth, E. E. Smathers, Clay Brothers, John F. Schorr and Barney Schriber.

Eastern racing men are watching Mr. Drake's stable closely. While on public form Savable and Runnels are the only two of his string which may be regarded as dangerous, there is a well defined fear that he may have something up his sleeve which will enable him to "tear up the patch" when the time comes.

While Mr. Smathers will certainly be represented at Saratoga by McChesney, it will depend largely on what action the Jockey Club takes on the proposition to grant Hildreth a license as to whether or not he will bring his other cracks East.

There is every prospect that precords will

The racing world is watching with keen interest the progress of two noted jockeys. Danny Maher and Johnny Reiff. The case of Reiff is particularly sad, He had been somewhat under a cloud by reason of his own and brother's troubles abroad, though it can be said here that very few if any, on this side of the water believed that either of the Reiff boys have beer guilty of dishonesty of any kind, and had practically been reinstated when this accident on June 19th came. It is said that if Reiff ever is able to ride again, which is extremely doubtful. It is not probable that he will ever have the nerve to ride the races which have made him one of the greatest jockeys America has one of the greatest jockeys America has produced. Practically the same may be said of Danny Maher. He may recover, probably will, but in the judgment of experts he will never be the great jockey

While the injuries to these two fine jockeys may have such serious results it is gratifying to know that the injuries it is gratifying to know that the injuries received by that fine raceliorse Golden Maxim, who went lame after the Islip Handicap, will not prove so serious as was at first feared. The colt has responded to treatment kindly and is rounding to in good form, and J. P. Kramer, his owner, believes he will be in condition to race up to his old form before the season is over.

The way of the plunger is hard. Once in a while, a very great while, a 'plunger gets to the good and stays there, but the history of the turf shows that such a thing is about as rare as the winning of a rich stake by a selling plater. "Davy" Johnson has gone broke again. He is said to be all the way from $25,000 to $50,000 to the bad with the bookmakers, and is said to have lost $150,000 since the Morris Park meeting. He has given his notes for the amount he is shy in the books, and as he has been "un against it" more than once in his pleturesque career on the turf, and has always "made good," his creditors do not intend to charge up his markers to profit and loss yet awhile.

Johnson has the reputation of being a remarkably lucky gambler off the turf, and as unlucky in connection with the horses. The story of the fortune he won from young Hostetter, the millionaire Pittsburg patent medicine man, is still fresh in the mind of the public. He says this settles him so far as the horses are concerned, but he has said the same thing on more than one similar occasion and nobody believes it.

One of the heaviest winnings at this meet at Brighton Beach is credited to Alex Shields. He tapped the books for $14,500 Wednesday, when his Young Henry and Andy Williams came in winners. Most of the money was won on Young Henry, with from 6 to 9 to 1 against him. Mr. Shields regarded him as well-nigh a certainty and played him accordingly. Among the western turfmen now in the East is Victor Henderson, who is training/for a Louisville owner, who will have some horses at Saratoga. Mr. Henderson says the western contingent which will race at Saratoga will bear watching, and if they don't take some of the rich stakes, he will miss his guess. Ho is a staunch admirer of The Picket, and believes he will size up with the best of the eastern three-year-olds. Mayor Julius Fleischman, of Cincinnati Mayor Julius Fleischman, of Cincinnati, has been down to the Beach several times recently, and has seen his colors in the money more than once, His two-year-old Tomcod was favorite in the first race Monday, but the best he could do was to get place, but as the winner was ring to the best her could do was to get place, but as the winner was ring. do was to get place, but as the winne do was to get place, but as the winne was run up $450, he picked up $425 of the race, which about made good the commission the Cincinnati man placed of William C. hitney finds that buffalo and race horses are too much, even for his versatile genius. One of his from was the hard of American bison on his place in the Adirondacks. He has come to the conclusion now, however, that his thoroughbreds will take up about all the time he can devote to animals, so he has presented to the New York Zoo most of his buffalo. The others will, it is said, go to other zoological gardens.

What if one does feck and, what in, of course, worse, look like a tar-baby, on arrival. To quit the glazing noisy streets; to endure the dust and cinders of crowded cars; to insten over the merciless miles of sunshiny plains; to drive over shaded roads and through cool, broadly spreading streams; to breathe in the scent and oder at the forest and catch its "low multitudinous stirring"; to be at last where mountains peep over mountains at Crockett, in the very arms of the mountains are districted in the first heat of the summer, and changes the dreams to a reality at the first possible moment.

Crockett always has an extended season. Guests arrive before the last fires are lighted in the cool mornings and evenings, and leave only after seeing the hoar frost bediamoned every twig and spear of grass, and touch the leaves with every line and that of nature's palette, or hurl them brown and rustling to the earth. Meanwhile the weeks ore already passing all too swiftly in the sual passines of a summer resent. Its Cooling Shades.
